Chapter 2: The Guest List and Invitations

Managing the guest list and sending invitations is a crucial aspect of wedding planning. In this chapter, Sarah guides you through the process of creating a guest list, designing invitations, and addressing them properly. She also covers RSVP etiquette and provides tips for handling guest responses.

The image shows a decorative 'Guest List' template. It features a central table with four columns: 'Name', 'Address', 'Invited', and 'RSVP'. The table has 15 rows for data entry. The template is framed by a decorative border with floral and scrollwork elements. A watermark 'reader.aoadtome.com' is repeated diagonally across the page. At the bottom center, the URL 'www.PrettyWeddingPlanner.com' is visible.

Chapter 3: Choosing Your Vendors

Choosing the right vendors is essential for a successful wedding. Sarah provides a comprehensive vendor guide, including florists, photographers, caterers, and musicians. She shares her insights on how to find the best vendors, negotiate contracts, and ensure that they deliver on your expectations.

WEDDING PLANNING GUIDE: Tipping Your Vendors

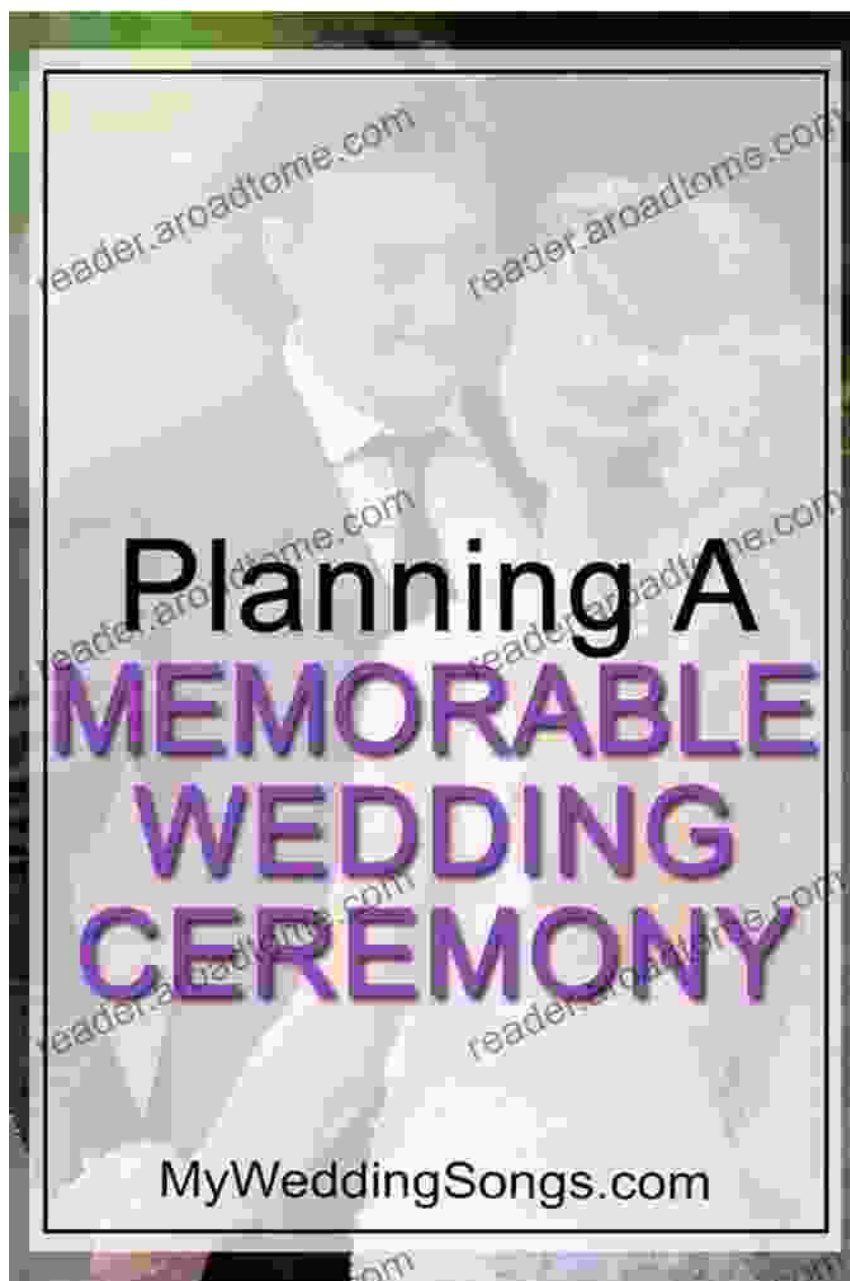

Budgeting for a wedding is a lot of work. And when you're looking down at the bottom of the budget, it can be hard to look beyond those small dollar signs and remember to add gratitude. Money isn't and shouldn't be a Zerkow. Tipping a vendor is never a requirement, although it is often an expectation. Here's a guide that will help clarify the confusion. (For a full list of vendors, visit Sarah's comprehensive vendor list.) Don't forget to budget for the possibility of having to pay for services you may not need. It's better to have a surplus on hand than to be short.

REMEMBER THAT COMPANY OWNERS – Always check your contract if you're going to be tipped and you should feel free to tip a vendor you really liked or a loved one's vendor.

Vendor	Standard Tip	When to Tip
BARTENDER	10% of total liquor bill	EXPECTED: at the end of the reception.
CEREMONY MUSICIANS	$15-$20 per musician	OPTIONAL: at the end of the ceremony
